Here is the line it's so divine
Here is the line it's so divine
Here is the line it's so divine
Here is the line

Here is the line it's so divine
The choice is quick but this choice means everything

I've been through war and fire
We've been through war and fire

Back down you say you'll fend for me
My heart is black and your tears fill up an endless sea
Your dying wish is to protect me
From a war I waged from a war I waged
Do not see

We wont let, we wont let, we wont let,
We wont give it away, we wont give it away

If we just back down and we just relinquish
Well find what were looking for

The tragic truth is in the Let Go, the Let Go
Save me now my Great Commander, save me now

Here is the line, it's so divine
This choice is quick but this choice means everything
