

I Am Ghost "Unbreakable"

Don't mind the waters around you, or the temptation it withholds.
At the bottom of this ocean you'll find nothing but hope.
And who need hope in a world that destroys your dreams
And demolish your needs?
I need to find clarity, a definition of home.

So many promises are gonna break us apart.
Is there anybody out there, with a feeling of despair?
So many unbreakable promises broken.

We unearth the past in search to find a context of the present.
Digging up memories of times we think we were great.
But it's easy to think, a whole other thing to feel.

You can try all you want, but I'm unbroken.
I am unbreakable.
