I left my dream my heart my life
As the weight of the world crashed down on me
I hate my job but who doesn't these days
I feel like a ship that's lost at sea

See I'm back on my own again
I planned on waiting an eternity
But the games that we play
Always seem to get the best of me

Until the day I die, I wanna watch the sun rise
From coast to coast from side to side
I'm in for the long ride

But can you blame me for losing focus
Its such a shame I threw it all away
But the words that you said

Made me feel like a waste of space

Until the day I die, I wanna watch the sun rise
From coast to coast from side to side
I'm in for the long ride

Too late for me to apologize
But I can see it in your eyes
You're alright
From coast to coast from side to side
I'm in for the long ride

What made me throw it away
This time I ask myself again
What made me throw it away

From coast to coast from side to side
I'm in for the long ride
