It's not what it used to be
I've become friends with the enemy
Not sure what happened here
But everything seems insincere
I'm digging my own grave
I'm in too deep for you to save
So go, just walk away
Save your sh*t for another day

Sometimes you just can't wait
I'm more than happy to not fit in (with your friends)
I hope you don't make it home
Someday that you'll face it
'Cause the world doesn't spin for you

It's not what it used to be
You can keep your friends, I'm the enemy
