We all knew this day was coming
Well, bitter hearts can hear it calling
We're so proud of the divine
So proud of who we are

Standing tall next to taller buildings and
Filling up with all the reasons
Why you should learn to trust yourself
No need to feel yourself...afraid

It's nights alone when we're driving
And the sky just looks a little funny
You're thinking of the worst
You fear all the worst
Right after you figure it all out
Find a way to straighten your head out
But, what if you are wrong
And the world is having ???

Flowing sounds from random places to Keep you in check to See if you can figure it out

You finally figure it out

Fall to our knees
And pay for yourselves
So long...
He's just afraid

And we (x2)

Fall to our knees
And pay for yourselves

We all knew this day was coming
Well, bitter hearts can hear it calling
We're so proud of the divine
So proud of who we are
