We set our sights on something
That's just beyond our reach
It's not what we expected
We will pray
We won't stop this
We will not let it go
We wont stop we're not letting go
We wont stop we're not letting

With every flaw in our hearts
Break with them (...) on and on and on and on
You say that's the part
We won't break down and die tonight die tonight
We're something, we're something now
Something now

You can kiss and tell but we won't back down
You can kiss and tell but we won't back down

We can feel you in our heart you will(...)
We can feel you in our heart
We can feel you in our hearts

We're not dead yet we are still alive but not tonight
we'll die some other time
We're not dead yet we are still alive but not tonight
we'll die some other time
We're not dead yet we are still alive but not tonight
we'll die some other time
We're not dead yet we are still alive but not tonight
we'll die some other time
