Close this door, cause I don't you to see
What I've been doin
And I was one of those who Found a way to hide my eyes again,

And I have found you, And you have
Reached me where I Stand
And I have found you, And you have
Found the one whole hand

And I have heard you when the Sleepless nights of my existence
I was running from the way you
Call my name when you were there

And I have found you, And you have
Reached me where I Stand
And I have found you, And you have
Found the one whole hand

I was walking behind walls where
No one else could see me
So I could hide my poison
From the world I'd never know
Then I turned my gaze upon
The one who held me you grabbed
My hand and said, "You're coming back with me."

And I have found you. And you have
Reached me where I stand
And I have found you and you have
found the one whole hand

And I have found you. And you have
Reached me where I stand
And I have found you and you have
found the one whole hand
