One more astronaunt in black sking

of universe

One more travelin' man

With heavy tired eyes, feeling cold thinking around the clock of drinking

On the job, of the powdered food And piss bags, never having sex and growing old

Headspace... alive and painless,

Weightless and almost sane

I close my eyes, I become the sky

Headspace... alone and shameless

Can't wait to find the faces

I left behind in a troubled time

Back home

It gets so lonely you know

Weeks and months alone chasing

Sleep and space junk and the dying

Stars I've known and loved

Through the decline

Of the five billion minds or so

Through mudslides

And earthquakes, the blue one holds

And rolls along

One more astronaunt in

Endless old universe with

One more second chance at

Wondering why he's here at all

Bold are the ones who Come over the line to fall over

The horizon...never ones to fade away

Then it hit me, this

Cosmic pull and energy

It kinda makes me wonder

If I'll ever make it

Back home
