We're all running from creation
Of the black screen god
Running on black gold
Our time is fading now

Someone save me
Someone please save me
Someone save me

This time is our last time

Oh God, just take control of me
Oh God, just take a hold of me
I heard them coming in the night
Run for your lives
I heard the knashing of teeth as you flee

I heard them coming in the night
Savior save me
I can't believe me eyes
Stars are falling from the sky

Oh God, just take a hold of me
Oh God, just take control of me

My God, you're all I need
My God, breathe into me
And rain your love down on this city
And cure this heart and make us one
And drop the stairs down from heaven

God, you're all I need
Change my heart
Breathe into me
God, you're all I need
Rain down your love to me

Savior, save me

And girl, you know there is no time for accusation
This complication is not the end of all creation
If I die, please know you're always in my heart

The world is at it's end but we will never be apart
