Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same.

Good morning, time to wake up
Sugar coated white lies in the middle
If this is a lie, than what am i?

And now I'm standing on my rooftop I
Sure could use someone to talk to
Somone to make this alright
Cause I'm done pretending.

Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same.

I never thought I would live to see
Everyone and me struggling to breathe
If this is a lie than what am I?

When the power of love
Exceeds the love for power
The world will finally, finally know peace.

They fight for the center of the universe with the sun
Your trapped in your tube and blind from the truth
And there's a future that's in store for you.

Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same.(x2)

This is the portrait the man behind the curtain
Has painted for you
As long as you choose to be separate
You leave yourselves completely
ENSLAVED!
