Don't Forget to Write

My lips were meant to tell you something
Before you ran off without warning
You left me with a hollow ghost
Of a kiss that drove me mad
I visit a place in my mind
Where you are trapped forever
To be mine
A prisoner of our love
And a ghost of better times

Don't forget to write darling
And I won't forget
Those nights that I spent
Tossing and turning
Awake till midnight
Hoping to God you'd say

Now trapped in the world of my thoughts
I question what I have done
If nothing but death it brought
Then surely I must pay
I breathe for you beauty
And I write for you solely
And with every step you take
My soul it fades away

Don't forget to write darling
And I won't forget
Those nights that I spent
Tossing and turning
Awake till midnight
Hoping to God you'd say

(Don't forget to write)
Don't mourn for me
It's mourning
Don't mourn for me
