Face The Real World

You took control
The heart right out of me, I
Have been under your spell
Since the day that I
Laid eyes on your
Your body and your thighs
When time stands still
No need for compromise

I could take you over
I could be your only one
If you give me just a second of your own love
Take my heart
Don't take me for a fool again
And I'll shower you forever in a true romance
Right now

They say it's time to face the real world
(But we wont)
And we will never give it a chance
(Whoa oh oh)
They say it's over but we'll fight it
To see the world through to it's end

(I wish you could be in love with me
We could stay forever young we could be in love)
I could take you over
I could be your only one
If you give me just a second of your own love
Take my heart
Don't take me for a fool again
And I'll shower you forever in a true romance
Right now

Take time on second chances
Take my heart at a second glance
It's a tad unreal but you never knew
The things you loved
Could never be so true

I could see myself sleeping
So fall asleep
I could see myself sleeping
Next to you
I could feel my heart beating
Close to you
