When the joys of living just leave you cold,
Frozen from the failing mess you've made your own.
And if you want an ending to your screenplay life,
Well here's the consolation that will change your heart and mind.

All the glitz messiahs just pass the time,
A cure for no real sickness, cross your hopes and die.
Your supermarket Jesus comes with smiles and lies,
Where just as he delays, is always just as he denies.

This will make you love again. [x4]

And now your safe, love again.
To feel the rays, love again.
The sweet delays, love again.
And shoot the bays, love again.

Early Thursday mornings wipe away the flies,
The crossfire fights direction inbetween your thighs.
Every touch is sacred when they leave the room,
If I have to switch the lights off, I wanna switch them off with you.

This will make you love again. [x4]

And now your safe, love again.
To feel the rays, love again.
The sweet delays, love again.
And shoot the bays, love again.
