"Might-Have-Beens"

We all must wonder, now and then, if things had turned out -

Well - just plain different.

Chance path taken, page unturned or brief encounter,
Blossomed, splintered.

Might you have been the man of courage, brave upon
life's battlefield,

Captain Commerce, high-flown banker, hedonistic,
down-at-heel?

A Puritan of moral fibre, voice raised in praise magnificent?

Or rested in assured repose, knowing your lot in quiet content?

What-ifs, Maybes and Might-have-beens fly,
Soft petals on a breeze.

What-ifs, Maybes and Might-have-beens.

Why-nots, Perhaps and Wait-and sees
