All alone in the country
Took a walk in the country
All alone in the country, yeah, yeah

Blade of grass in the country
Sour mash in the country
All the cash in the country yeah, yeah

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

I'll call your home, then you start delivering Taking my time, then you start your quibbling
Now I know you're meddling, you're still back pedaling
I should have quit you a long, long
A long, long, a long, long time ago

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

No, no, no lions in England
No more lions
No more lions
No more lions
No more lions, no more in England

There are no more lions in England
There are no more lions in England, no, no, no

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England
There are no lions in England, no, no, no

No, no, no
No, no, no
No, no, no, no, no
