Someone call the doctor
There's a fever going round
Write me a prescription
For the cure that can't be found

Doctor can't prescribe the medicine
To pull you through
It just don't exist
'Cause it's the lovebug catching you

This ailment don't need healing
It won't leave you feeling blue
It's the feeling so contagious
It's the lovebug catching you
It's the feeling so contagious
It's the lovebug catching you

Someone call the doctor
There's a fever going round
Write me a prescription
For the cure that can't be found

This ailment don't need healing
It won't leave you feeling blue
It's the feeling so contagious
It's the lovebug catching you

It's the friend next to your shoulder
Who will stab you in the back
Pay no heed to enemies
Who come to you on the attack

No known antidote nor expert
Treatment to assist
Here's a bug your system
Is unable to resist

It's so contagious
It's the lovebug catching you
