I'm the revolution
I'm chaos and confusion
Your problem, your solution

I'm imagination
No product of a nation
Or overnight sensation

This song's for conformity
Fore everyone who thought something was wrong with me
For disarray and for disorder
For breaking down every stupid border
This song's for adversity
For everybody who would never let me be
For standing firm and sticking ground
For never once ever backing down

I'm no shrinking violet
On this journey I'm the pilot
Your peace of mind, your riot

I'm the fire burning
The wheel that's always turning Persistently disturbing

This song's for conformity
Fore everyone who thought something was wrong with
me
For disarray and for disorder
For breaking down every stupid border
This song's for adversity
For everybody who would never let me be
For standing firm and sticking ground
For never once ever backing down

I'm the revolution
I'm chaos and confusion
Your problem, your solution

This song's for conformity
For everyone who thought something was wrong with me

For disarray and for disorder
For breaking down every stupid border
This song's for adversity
For everybody who would never let me be
For standing firm and sticking ground
For never once ever backing down

This song's for conformity
Fore everyone who thought something was wrong with
me
(For conformity)
For disarray and for disorder
For breaking down every stupid border
This song's for adversity
For everybody who would never let me be
(For conformity)
For standing firm and sticking ground
For never once ever backing down
