Another face
And they're all to forget about
Another space for another known life
Another waste and it's all you never talk about
Hocking and hocking and selling your strife

In a place where we never get to talk about
In the maze of a broken down mind
In the ways that I'd never wanna hear about
Pushing in, sucking in, back to the life

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love
Magdalen

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love
Magdalen

Moving on and it's all you can't think about
An open gaze to an overcast sky
Later on, ends up turning you from inside out
Hollow in, hollow in, hollow inside

In the place where we never get to talk about
In the maze of a broken down mind
In the ways that I'd never wanna hear about
Pushing in, sucking in, back to the life

For a place the bullets couldn't shatter
I'd let you in

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love
Magdalen

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love

Magdalen
Magdalen

Can't I make an observation
Think your tired of two lives
From a messed up situation
Came a world that you despise
Once upon a time didn't matter
Getting under your skin
For a place bullets can't shatter
I will let you in
I will let you in

You're hollow in, you're hollow in, you're hollow inside

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love
Magdalen

What's the going rate of your love
What's the price you pay for sin
What's the going rate on your love
Magdalen
