You were just a twinkle in your teenage mother's eyes
I was squeezing brylcreem on my hair
No one taught us how to be politically correct
And no one told our winks what to wear

I've been there, I've done it
I've seen it all
That was my contribution oh, oh
So much for the revolution

When someone said, "Let's go to bed" nobody was scared
We were up to no good all the time
(We were up to no good all the time)
Judging by those freckles and the shades upon your nose
It's possible you could be one of mine
(Possible you could be one of mine)
Yeah

I've been there, I've done it
I've seen it all
That was my revolution

On the road again, back at number ten
Underneath the lights a thousand and one nights
A revolution for fun
Oh, you better lock up your mum

I've been there, I've done it
Well, I've seen them come and go
That's for you to guess
And that's for me to know, oh baby

And that's for you to guess and that's for me to know
Ah, so much for revolution, ah so much for revolution
And that was my revolution, oh revolution
That was my revolution
