Well, the morning is fading to the day
And I lie here and watch as you fade away
And the stillness holds me down like a thief
And it robs me of my peace

But it's all for the love of Magdalena
And she is a river for my eyes
I grasp at her beauty, she floats right on by Any man should know such sorrow

Yeah, my tears, they know no pain, ooh
It's all for the love of Magdalena

And her scent that she leaves behind
Well, it tempts me where I lay, yeah Empty promises leave me wondering where she went astray
And she flickers, and she fades, ooh, oh, she fades, hey

Ooh, ooh
Ooh, ooh

The morning is fading to the day
And I lie here and watch as you fade, as you fade away, hey
Leave the things as they need to be, yeah
Ooh, but some things are not for me, yeah, but it's, uh
But it's all for the love

It's all for the love, yeah It's all for the love
It's all for the love, it's all for the love, yeah
