Spoken part

Les journées de conflit font enfin partie du passé.

Le débat a remplacé la nécessité de prendre les armes.

Il y a une multitude d'exemples, de manières où le passé se heurte au présent -

Ce sont des sujets de conversation ou de discussions philosophiques.

On base les réponses sur la compréhension mutuelle et non sur l'ignorance.

[Intro:]

It's time to look ahead, or the past and present will collide

'Cos what the future brings, is happiness for all mankind

[Verse]

Conflict and pain

Are historical emotions, now laid to rest

The ways of the past collide

With the present now, are topics for

Philosophical discussion

[Bridge]

Alone in exile, and in conflict with itself

The Monomale searches

A constant fight to come too terms
In a collide-o-scope, of morals past and present

[Verse]

Old familiar ways, an' habits never die

They're hard to change

You can't teach an old dog new tricks

It's best to let it go, on it's way

To roam across the world alone

[Bridge]

In this new order

Now a prison is a place, of great historic value

A place where children play and learn

In this society, the Neofems created

[Chorus]

Now it's a time for learning

Gone are the ways of old

Right now is the time for sharing

The knowledge learnt by all

Don't let the grass keep growing

Don't sit and watch the water flow

Don't live in the past forever

Look to the future there's a sign of hope

[Middle-8:]

Let yourself, just drift away

To where, a new place is born

A place, where children learn and play

We are as one, life and all
