Well the streets can't get much darker
As I step into my car driving east
I'm trying to calm myself until I know where you are Cause my mind makes up excuses or you say that's what I do because it's taken me too long to know It's time I need with you

And this is the last time I look before I leap I confess, I'm a mess when you leave why'd you leave?

And these days pass but I still haven't slept at all And I'm terrified to call You can't forget me.
We promised not to change but then we grew up but not too fast,
We lived a lifetime in a week before you left but I'm still stuck here and all I have left are those nights in your bed with my hand slipping further up your dress then you stopped me but it's cute because you do it so smooth we were so smooth, so smooth yeah yeah

And I seem to recall several nights spent In the back of your car you said, 'I want you to know my body's burning for yours' or those days spent drinking with nothing to do except get lost in the moment as I slowly undress you.

And I'll pretend that you're here and you're not gone.

It's not the end if you were here
and you're not gone.

(Breathe in give me some time with you to show I've got, I've got so much for you to know tell me, tell me is this what you had chose I know, I know it's wrong)
That I won't let you go
No I won't let you go
And no I won't let you go
