Ice Nine Kills
"Cinder Blocks And Thank You Knots"

Please take me back to the way things were before I swear to God we're causing permanent damage or more as I try to fight these urges inside (we keep drinking until we can't recall)
But I cant stop (your so sexy when you're out of control) Cause I want you (so give up and give in cause I know you want me to take your breath away) Lets get drunk and disguise our wasted miserable lives made better from lack of trust and excess lust combined when we're together
Cause I burn every bridge I cross and I'd feel better jumping off
when you can't see the signs, that theres no chance that we can survive
This was over before it began, I can't live like this when you don't understand that you're the queen of lust and I stormed the castle but it was empty and cold and it's decaying like our insides I hope we fall asleep for the last time tonight

I like you more when you're laid on the floor passed out when I'm not there's not a single good thought in my body And have you ever been lonely enough to think that this wasn't only just luck and won't we feel better when we soak our skulls with alcohol to forget about this night
This place is so cold
continues and fades out to the end
