"Crown Of The Fallen"

Many lifetimes have come and gone in elation for this day

By the Order's hand the minions forged his way
At age thirteen, dawn the days of revealing
The human forms will rue the day we crown the astral beast

Crowned is the king of the fallen
Rejoice in his light, they live again
Crowned is the king of the fallen
Celebrate the subjugation of all man

His countenance, the venom burns, the wraps conceal the pain
Don the shroud and the armor deeply stained Now place crown upon his head, the scepter in his grasp Kneel now for before you stands the wicked God of wrath

Crowned is the king of the fallen
Rejoice in his light, they live again
Crowned is the king of the fallen
Celebrate the subjugation of all man
