Pray, but you don't know what to say
You've wounded all your faith
You don't think that they'll ever listen
Shame is running through your veins
Just need a little taste
Is that the devil you've been kissing?

It's too, it's too late to get saved

How long are you gonna have to go
Before you see the miles of mistakes and the waste
Down these dead end roads and lost highways

Talk, I'm tired of your talk
I wonder if you'll stop for long enough to ever listen?
Stop. Have you had enough of all of this stuff?
No more excuses because it's...

It's too, it's too late to get saved

How long are you gonna have to go

Before you see the miles of mistakes and the waste
Down these dead end roads and lost highways

It's too late, its too late
Its too late to get saved

Pray, but you don't know what to say
You've wounded all your faith
Is that the devil you've been kissing?

How long are you gonna have to go
Before you see the miles of mistakes and the waste
Down these dead end roads and lost highways
How far are you gonna have to fall
Before you see the miles of mistakes and the waste
Down these dead end roads and lost highways
How many miles will you waste
On these dead end roads and lost highways?
