(crying)

Ahhhh little baby bitch ass is crying again

What's the matter

Feelin like you don't fit in anywhere

(yeh)

What about fittin that ass in with us

The mighty Deezy Cizzarn?

We'll fuckin gladly take ya

We take all shape, colours, sizes and genders

We are the mighty, mystical, mythological, dark mother fuckin Carnival, Byaaatchh!

I see your feeling alone again, you's a mother fucker

Feeling like you don't belong, like you the only other?

But some of us scrubs got it worse then you,

No homies to call on, or crew to belong to,

Some us said fuck all that bullshit and dropped outl;

Some of us stood up to fight but got knocked out

Some of us like to cuss and don't like ya format,

We like the wicked shit we chose not to ignore that,

Some of us be comin out of more then a broken home,

Some of us be livin out of a cars and carry on

Some of us see the Budget Suits as a real apartment and

Make you take off your shoes on the carpet

Some of us are on parol and can't leave the state,

And some are dead and gone my homie blaze can relate.

And some can't afford a free phone call

But some of us's equal us all,

Think about that.

We Belong

We Belong

We Belong

Our Carnival Is Here

We Belong

We Belong

We Belong

Find Us Everywhere

Some of us own dope cars that fail to exist

Some of us have profiles, nobody else fits
And some aint got time for the monks in Tibet Because my own kids are hungry and there looking at me for shit
Some of us own drug paraphernalia material, and some of us have incurable Sexual venereals and some of us have dreams of being a star
And most wont make it that far, but it's all good
Some of us can't afford the coolest shoes
Some us gives a fuck about popularity choose
Some bitches tittie dance cause they babies are cryin, Others say there dancing for college and you know that they lyin,
Some us are in love with people who aint ours,
Some us don't give up until there behind bars,
And some us must of been born to take the fall.
But some us's equal us all, and I'm with you
