"and Some Thoughts"

So simple we are so innocent we can see objects, things; receive and send feelings, from people to others.

We can experience many things and teach many people were led by something when were acting-just like everyone.

We can feel love or throw it away (we can feel pain, sometimes great.)

We say easily that we know many things

Friends come and change later, refuse us, become good pals of others.

We are also invisible: we live behind our own face, isolated from the others,

Nobody knows the hidden parts of our soul.

We judge others they judge us, we disapprove if they act differently.
and some thoughts
that go through my mind after all that has happened or maybe while its happening.

I just tease myself, because I dont know what to do with them.

And have you lived, if you havent seen stars diving into the sky by the lakes shore, and Webbers song screaming into your ears the clearest feelings that music can carve I think I understood deeply then and there the word-covered things told by my tales main character

In fact, I dont want to teach

Selfish intentions lead me, when Im telling you what happened in a small country, because I hope my soul lets me have a rest and I can treat all the things that happened to me and still theyre happening.

Just listen: a beautiful tale it is Maybe Id done something before I died, thats important, that matters much, that will help later

It may fail or win, but I must finish the things I got, hushing and swinging the winds of centuries

If I tell you now, maybe then you will understand what occurs in me.

These thoughts change my life, but they may not matter while all these things happen.
