"Pure Flying"

My souls so vexed, I wonder where I could rest?
Wheres that only place that hides my peace?
with wide open arms Im looking up the sky,
waiting for your help and feel like I could fly.

Light breeze strokes down my face its so wonderful, so calming.
I move into your soul, put up your skin
to make you be with me all the time and if I never see you again keep my smile till youre alive.

My souls so vexed, so much Id like to live Please, lead me through the suffering, theres no end, there I can hold you tight with a light movement
and we listen to the peaces endless silence.
