Wherever you can be, your soul is here with me

Don't cry my love, I gave all my pain to the endless sea

And if you're too scared to call, just trust me like before

There's some hope, the dream is there, just let that curtain fall

You know that no one's perfect, don't tell me what you've done

But I've had to turn away, my doubts and fears have gone

There's someone waiting for you, a guardian by your side

So release the curse if you can kiss your sinful past goodbye

I had no guide, only loneliness, I couldn't start to fly

Emptiness inside, only misty mess, in this heart of mine

In the shadow of the roses we can find a secret
moment

Don't you cry, our life is just dust in the wind

In the shadow of the roses everything will be different

Under the stars our pain and sorrow will turn to nothing

So everything will burn and the pain is fading away

Reach for the light, salvation is on the way

I had no guide, only loneliness, I couldn't start to

fly

mine

moment

In the shadow of the roses everything will be different

Under the stars our pain and sorrow will turn to

nothing
