We thought we had it all
We thought we'd go unscathed
We thought our love
Would border on infinity

We thought that we were free
The world would disappear
And we had no fear

But forever came and went
Forever stumbled through
Forever had poor sense of time
And made a mess of me and you

Forever had us fooled
We fell for it again
And now time is standing still
Forever

Lying next to you
But you're already gone
And too much has been said
And it can't be undone

It's so hard to comprehend
When ashes fade to dust
I touch your water
And the iron turns to rust

So forever came and went
Forever stumbled through
Forever had poor sense of time
And made a mess of me and you

Forever had us fooled
We fell for it again
And now time is standing still

Forever came and went

We thought it had it all

We thought we'd go unscathed
We thought our love
Would border on infinity

But forever was a shame
It stole a little piece of us
To live up to it's name
Was really just too much

And forever came and went
Forever stumbled through
Forever had poor sense of time
And made a mess of me and you

Forever came and went
Forever stumbled through
Forever had poor sense of time
And made a mess of me and you

Forever had us fooled
We fell for it again
Forever came and went

(Forever, forever, forever)
Oh, I thought we had it all
(Forever, forever, forever)
Oh, oh, oh

I thought we had it all
(Forever, forever)
Every day 'til the end
(Forever)
You and me, oh, oh
(Forever, forever, forever)
