Desperately searching for the one who could heal the wounds

... but no one to be found...

Nowhere to turn always on the run it's a game I could only lose

[BRIDGE]

I thought of the better days, but you shot me down in flames

In so many ways I denied my shame...

[CHORUS]

From the beginning of it all - I was too blind to see your lies

From the beginning of it all - I should've seen through your disguise...

Needed the distance, could not get away, do you believe me

... oh no you don't

Equal to none in this pain I feel so deep inside

[BRIDGE]

I thought of the better days, but you shot me down in flames

In so many ways I denied my shame...

[CHORUS]

From the beginning of it all - I was too blind to see your lies

From the beginning of it all - I should've seen through your disguise...

[SOLO / Pete]
