It's amazing that five lives have.
Revolved around this thing we've made.
More amazing still that we continue on today.
It's grown to be more than we could ever have hoped.
This thing's bigger than the lot of us.
There's so much more to this road.
I want to see it all with you.
This passion still burns.

I don't want to sever these ties.
These are the times of our lives.
This is the time that binds.
This is our lifeline.

This is something that I'll always hold dear to my heart.
That I'll always remember.
Dear to my heart.
This is something that I'll always hold dear to my heart.
There's no mistaking.
What we have is worth saving.
Some of my greatest memories have come out of this.
There's no mistaking.
What we have is worth saving.
To think that it all could have been cast aside.

There's so much more to that road.

It stretches on for miles.
I want to see it all with you.
This passion, it still burns.

I don't want to sever these ties.
These are the times of our lives.
This is the tie that binds.
This is our lifeline.

This is something that I'll always hold dear to my heart.
This is something that I'll never forget.
This is something that I'll always hold dear to my heart.

My heart.

There's so much more to that road
It stretches on for miles.
We've got much longer to go.
Because this passion still burns.
