I don't know how
You can love this fool
I fall to the ground
And I feel your grace fall all around
I find my way
As you sit awake
And I wonder, I wonder
How much you have given me

Give me the sea
Give me the sea
Your water's all I need
Your water's all I need

How can you clean the slate?
I know I'm far too late to try to wash my hands
It's like my sins are written in the sand
And I just can't understand
How you understand
Give me this chance to live again
My sins are written in the sand

You're the ocean
Your waves clean me
I love the tide
It cleans my soul from the inside
And it's not fair
That you keep me here
I sit here, and I wonder
How much you have given me

Give me the sea
Give me the sea
Your water's all I need
Your water's all I need

How can you clean the slate?
I know I'm far too late to try to wash my hands
It's like my sins are written in the sand
And I just can't understand
How you understand
Give me this chance to live again

My sins are written in the sand

Like the holy sea
Wash over me
Wash over me

How can you clean the slate? (How can you clean the slate?)

I know I'm far too late to try to wash my hands

It's like my sins are written in the sand

And I just can't understand (Just don't understand)

How you understand

Give me this chance to live again

My sins are written in the sand
