It's in my head
And nothing changes what's been done
If I regret not being there
When the time has come, when it's too late

No regrets, no time to change
A selfish choice can take its toll
A sacrifice might make the day

No regrets, it's time to change
Could I have done more?
It's in my head

I hold my breath
It's not too late
And I know that if I had another chance
I'd make it up to them

I'd make it count
Built up but nothing changes what's been done
If I regret not being there
When the time has gone, when it's too late

No regrets, it's time to change
A selfish choice can take its toll
A sacrifice might make the day

No regrets, it's time to change
Could I have done more?
It's in my head

It's in my head
It's in my head
It's in my head

A selfish choice can take, take its toll
A sacrifice, I'll try, try, instead I hold my breath

It's not, not too late
I hope it's all just in, just in my head

No regrets, it's time to change

No regrets, it's time to change
A selfish choice can take its toll
A sacrifice, I'll try instead, I hold my breath

It's not too late
And hope it's all just in my head
