I slept in your drive for a month but you didn't see I watched both the legs you uncrossed in the library and I would always fall beneath your spell this unrequited nowhere love is hell and I can't talk to you because I'm not made of flesh and bones and there's a box where my heart should be all of the wires are crossed inside of me

I sent you a card but I swear it was thrown away
Now it's getting dark in the cold light of day I'll pull all the pins that keep my soul in
and I would always fall beneath your spell

and I can't talk to you because
I'm not made of flesh and bones
all of the wires are crossed inside of me

I want you but I am zero
