i have fever in my chemicalls you left me here among the skeletons and gravity can only hold so long all the heroes here are dead and gone i thought i had endless enigies send my love to the authorities and pull all the stitches watch the world as it hinges
don't shut me down don't shut me down
keep me alive

the panic button is worn just the writing's left which says-
"hit this when everything's wrong" everything's wrong

you're the one my soul craves

don't shut me down
keep me alive
