"A Day That Past"

Because of you my silence has broken
In sight of what no one ever knows
From above I feel a sense of fate
In myself a longing to escape

What have I done what has this come to
To reach the end so soon
A day that past
My life before me
Lost in time
With you

Listen to the voice that cries within us
Forever more a secret that I hold
Don't lead me into a false existence
For I must stop this hatred that I've cast

What have I done what has this come to
To reach the end so soon
A day that past
My life before me
Lost in time

With you

What has come between us
Never leaves us when we cry
When we lie amongst ourselves

Run to you run to you
Away from everyone
Run to you run to you
(Away from all)

Quiet Earth
