I come to this temple from lifes ups and downs
From sadness and madness from laughter and frowns
I come to this temple to see what is right
In search for the pure in search for the light

Light so pure light so bright
Embrace me now and hold me tight
Light so pure light so bright don't ever let me go

I come to this temple to learn to be free
In light love and life in oneness with thee
I come to this temple stronger in mind
High are my spirits the world is so blind

Light so pure light so bright
Embrace me now and hold me tight
Light so pure light so bright don't ever let me go

I come to this temple now that I'm free
To spread the light that was hidden in me
I come to this temple content as can be
To adore and praise the glory of thee

Light so pure light so bright
Embrace me now and hold me tight
Light so pure light so bright don't ever let me go
