Waiting, I guess I'll have to take my time. this wall is all I know. Hoping someone will come and open up the doors, and I'll load in. What I want to know is why this happens every time. What I want to know same thing every time. I can't go. You won't show. Sit back, wait for you to show. Aroundabout again. These walls are all we know. (all we'll ever know) These walls are all we have to pass the time. (and we just past the time) Pre-show game is played again and we wont learn, (we not ever learn) these walls are all we know. Aroundabout again. These walls are all we know. These walls are all we know.
