

Burns Out Bright "Halo"

Visit "Halo" on MotoLyrics.com

And this just started today. I see your halo, it wears me down. And I'm in pieces about the ground. Don't know if I wanted you to say, that you love me like I believe you do. Sitting around here, wasting time, living in denial. I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). And this just started, today I see. That I'm breaking apart at the seams, hoping for you, no hope to see. Solely my fault, I lie, I bleed. Maybe I can make you believe. I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). Maybe I can find some way to make you believe, maybe I can find a way to make you believe. And this just started... And this just started... I can't find my way (wither in denial). I can't find my way (wither in denial). Yeah!
