[Verse 1]

The cold wet rain falls upon my broken face, Burning my scars remembering the pain from last night
When I listened to your bitter-sweet voice singing over
me again,
Lies into my mind again, making me feel hollow inside
again,
But that was last night.

[Chorus]

I scream your name Jesus will you save me
Falling further and further away,
Grasping for anything but everything seems to slip
away,
Give me the strength to stand let me know that I'm ok.

[Verse 2]

My cold shaking hands can't seem to find their way Searching through hopeless dreams remembering the way from last night
When I listened to your bitter-sweet voice singing over
me again,
Lies into my mind again making me feel hollow inside
again
But that was last night.

[Chorus]

I scream your name Jesus will you save me
Falling further and further away,
Grasping for anything but everything seems to slip
away,
Give me the strength to stand let me know that I'm ok.

[Bridge]

I'm so tired I'm so sick of empty promises
I'm so tired I'm so sick of you so step back Get out of my mind cause.
He's won this battle and you've lost me.
