And i dont mean to call and bitch
But the words have just been making me itch
I don't mean to call it off
Full of words that do not know you
I dont need to watch him take it all away
But i cannot settle on something for nothing

Throw away
And I don't wanna hear about them
I don't want to hear about him
Go away
I don't wanna hear about them
I don't want to hear about him

Man my only hope is one
Day you'll realize we could have had everything
All that could have ever been
Even though I might have just been
Selfish and then watching it eat all away
But I can not settle on something for nothing

Throw away
And I don't wanna hear about them
I don't want to hear about him
Go away
I don't wanna hear about them
I don't want to hear about him

But tonight I'm afraid
I'm only trying to get closer
I'm already tryin to get further
Am I the only one thing that dispises the words
That make up the answers

Why...why...why
With the words left unsaid
