All alone and I can't calm the screaming
I need to know
Need a reason for dreaming
I've been living a life that I can't be trusted
Trying to figure out
And how it's all supposed to be
I listened to the wind
I tried to read the waves
Always nothing
Nothing comes

Don't say these words don't count for anything
I guess it's all a waste

And I said that
Sometimes I can feel it
Like a friend's whispering a secret showing me
The path of all our energies
'Cause I got this burning inside
That says there's no way to go hide
So be
So be it

Don't say these words don't count for anything
I guess it's all a waste
Life is over-rated and the story's missing pages
I guess I can't be saved

It's just this feeling I can't be saved
No time for dreaming I can't be saved
Wish I could see it I can't be saved

Don't say these words don't count for anything
I guess it's all a waste
Life is over-rated and the story's missing pages
I guess I can't be saved
I can't be saved
I can't be saved
