The power is in your hands
The dust will fall to sand
Got to make this land your own

You must feel free to fall
Know trust will catch us all
And faith calls out your name

When I let go of hope
There's no one left to follow
There's nothing but the power to believe in me
I reach for what I know
When I can't see tomorrow
I Carry hope

There is no security
In all it is we see
Tomorrow is your home

When I let go of hope
There's nothing but the power to believe in me
I reach for what I know
When I can't see tomorrow
I carry hope

The wind carries the past
It whispers loud and fast
From days now gone
They never last
I feel inside of me
It's lifting me out of sorrow
This energy's filling me up
My head held high

Lift me up
Lift me up
Lift me up
Lift me up

When I let go of hope

There's nothing but the power to believe in me
I reach for what I know
When I can't see tomorrow
I carry hope
