

Ilse De Lange "Winter Of Love"

Visit "Winter Of Love" on MotoLyrics.com

We're disconnected somehow
Live on different sides now
Divided by the seasons we've
Created from discarded dreams
We let the fire burn out
Down to the ashes of doubt
The nights grow longer day by day
The north wind's on it's way

This winter of love has fallen on us
Leaving our hearts in the cold, in the darkness
Lost in a frozen dance
Is there still life buried under the sands
Is there an ember of us left in the blackness of
This winter of love

Will the sun ever come (come to rescue us)
Melt us back into one (put us back into one)
The clouds give way to skies of blue
Will we make it through

This winter of love has fallen on us
Leaving our hearts in the cold, in the darkness
Lost in a frozen dance
Is there still life buried under the sands
Is there an ember of us left in the blackness of
This winter of love

Silent storms have left us stranded in
This winter of love, has fallen on us
Leaving our hearts in the cold, in the darkness
Lost in a frozen dance

This winter of love has fallen on us
Leaving our hearts in the cold, in the darkness
Lost in a frozen dance
Is there still life buried under the sands
Is there an ember of us left in the blackness of
This winter of love

