Save your words, don't give them up
All of them are not enough
To make them see or understand

Sometimes the truth
Is a line, you walk a while
Just to find you're alone

'Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again
'Cause everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead

No winners here in this game
Of pushing guilt and passing blame
So stand aside and let it go

A better sky, is on its way
So please just try to sit and wait
I know it's hard

'Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again
'Cause everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead of us

There is something we're needing to find
Up ahead of us

'Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it

'Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again

'Cause everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
