Held hands too tight in clench and fight
So what went wrong when everything it seemed so right
Lights turned red, empty bed,
Questions crawling off the wall into my head
Why you're gone

Is it too late to forgive
Are we too far to forget
Is it over or will we regret
Taking time out

Things we say just cut and paste
Over and over again without communicating
Corners bent, edge's gone
There's nothing left except over exaggerating
Are we gone

Is it too late to forgive
Are we too far to forget
Is it over or will we regret
Is it too late to forgive
Are we too far to forget
Is it over or will we regret
Taking time out

If you walk away will I know who I am
If we stay together it could be the end

Is it too late to forgive
Are we too far to forget
Is it over or will we regret
Is it too late to forgive
Are we too far to forget
Is it over or will we regret
Taking time out

Lessons learned, fingers burned
