Heart on a wire
Tomorrow is in my hand
To get any higher
Let go of all the plans

Get lost in a dream
Sky doesn't seem so high
The diamond you find
Like this heart of mine, it cuts

Trembling our lives begin
Safety nets have holes that led the truth back in
The black and white is colored in
I don't want to be untouchable

Current of people
Moving like rolling stones
I try to follow
But they're just a sea of ghost

Get lost in a dream
The ground doesn't seem so low

Trembling our lives begin
Safety nets have holes that led the truth back in
The black and white is colored in
I don't want to be untouchable

Untouchable
Have not hold
I'm so cold

And the thicker skin to keep it in
Please take this load I'm carrying Holes that led the truth back in
The black and white is colored in
I don't want to be untouchable
