"Chance To Survive"

When I looked into the realm of darkness
I felt an overwhelming need
To rid this selfish place
Of it's unavoidable greed
When I reach to feel the blackness
I touched a familiar scene
Of a man screaming for freedom
And no one to hear his pleas

There's still a chance within ourselves
A will to break free
There's still a faith within ourselves
Won't let the dark engulf me

When I searched the blackened night
I prayed so I can find the means
To release this selfish man
Of his state of harsh realities

When I turned away from his pain
I closed my mind to all I see
And find myself trapped in a world
Where no one was longing to leave

There's still a chance within ourselves
A will to break free

There's still a faith within ourselves
Won't let the dark engulf me

There's still a hope to end this all
Escape I still can try
You still can try
There's still a nameless in these halls
There's still a chance to survive
There's still a chance to survive... survive... survive
Can you hear me now
