Cries overhead, many angels have fallen
As the divine ones made their stand
Lost souls of a demonic nation
Retreat to the fires below
We grieve for the memories of loved ones
Lost during the dark one's siege
Behold the power surrounds us and onto the earth it flows

Some say the end is coming
Some swear the war is over
I believe it all begins right now

Even a blind man will see what become
Bred on the blood of immortals
A new power rises

Red on the land, a somber sky reflects crimson pools of
The slaughtered damned
We see the fragile remains of our hero's destinies
The light casts down from heaven a gift carried in disguise
Reborn, a new world created from an angelic war

Some say the end is coming
Some swear the war is over
I believe it all begins right now

Even a blind man will see what will become Bred on the blood of immortals
A new power rises
Even a blind man will see what become
Bred on the blood of immortals
A new power rises now

Now cast in sin, evil-minded and dark but bearing a Light deep within
Some seek to slaughter their brothers while others
Defend the weak

Some say the end is coming
Some swear the war is over
I believe it all begins right now
And a new power rises
Even a blind man will see what become
Bred on the blood of immortals
A new power rises

Even a blind man will see what become
Bred on the blood of immortals
A new power rises now

New power rises
